About PV IMPACT

PV IMPACT will try out a variety of approaches to stimulate PV research, development and innovation initiatives in Europe. The first part of the project will focus on inviting companies to matchmaking events so they can find partners with whom to work on future projects under EU and/or national funding schemes. The project will also target two specific industrial companies: ENEL Green Power and Photowatt. Another important part of the project will be to monitor progress in PV. Data will be collected on public spending in the EU, on private spending, on the kinds of projects being funded and on the overall performance of PV technology. Forecasts for future spending will be made according to various scenarios. The project will track whether improvements in the performance of technology are keeping pace with expectations and will make recommendations to European funding authorities.

1. Introduction

This document collects the list of press releases, newsletters and campaigns that have been prepared within the PV IMPACT project. The project partner WIP, leader of the communication and dissemination activities of the project, has taken the lead in this activity with the support of all partners.

Due to the nature of the project and its activities, electronic newsletters and mailing campaigns have proved to be the most suitable tool to reach the target groups.

WIP has published the news via the dedicated 'News & Resources' section on the PV IMPACT website at News & Resources - PV Impact. Furthermore, during the entire project lifetime, all the project partners have taken a very active role in promoting the project progress and its results in their own organization newsletters, social media channels and websites.

2. Target groups

The target audience are decision makers of the Member States and the European Commission, PV stakeholders from industrial companies manufacturing in the EU, research institutes, the academic community and the general public.
